

To the Love of my life.
Without you I'm nothing,
You complete me and make me whole,
You make me the person I am, and want to be,
You are the reason I get through the dark days,
and the reason I have so many bright days.
Without you my life would be so different,
Without you life would be so dull.
I need you in my life now and forever,
I need to love you and be loved by you in return.
You are my life, you are my soul, you are my everything.
You are a part of me.
You will never know how much I love you,
How much I need you
and how thankful I am everyday to have found you,
and have you in my life.
I hope the anniversaries continue until we are no more,
I hope each one brings a little more happiness,
love and hope to both of us.
Thank you for this wonderful year,
for the laughter and the tears,
for supporting me through good and bad times.
Thank you for giving, rather than taking and most importantly,
thank you for letting me be myself
and loving me just the way I am.
Thank you always.....
